

THE BIBLIOGRAPHY OF JOHN WINTOUR BALDWIN
BARNES
(1912–1974)

By S. W. GRUEN

Compiler's Note. I am pleased to take up Mr. E. P. Uphill's suggestion in JEA 57 (1971), 181, that others should also produce inventories for scholars in Egyptology. I should like to dedicate this bibliography to the memory of my former tutor and supervisor, the late Reverend Professor J. W. B. Barnes, as a small token of my gratitude. From the following list it can be seen that his breadth of scholarship was extremely wide, ranging from Greek to Old Nubian (No. 48), and encompassing every stage of the ancient Egyptian language (with the exception, possibly, of Old Egyptian). Every effort has been made to record here everything that he has ever written; but, given his incredibly diversified interests, I trust that scholars will be indulgent if some obscure item has inadvertently been omitted. It must be pointed out, moreover, that the list would have been considerably larger if it had included the numerous publications of others which have benefited from his invaluable advice and practical help, especially his papyrological expertise.<sup>1</sup> Standard abbreviations (such as are found, e.g., in Helck and Otto, Lexikon der Ägyptologie, 1, pp. v–xxvii) have been employed. For an obituary of Professor Barnes by W. V. Davies, see JEA 60 (1974), 243–6 (with portrait).<sup>2</sup>
